

Lemon Chalet Crèmes Quality Hold

Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles has been made aware that certain lots of the Lemon Chalet Crème cookie variety of Girl Scout Cookies® contain oils that may be breaking down, resulting in an off taste and smell. While the cookies are safe to eat, they are not up to the standards of the cookie's maker Little Brownie Bakers, one of two licensed bakers of Girl Scout Cookies.

Little Brownie Bakers has identified the affected cookie lots and, along with Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles, has taken steps to reclaim and return those boxes, which are estimated to represent less than 3.3% of all Lemon Chalet Crèmes purchased in the initial phase of the Cookie Program. Also, the affected cookie lots are limited to the southwest area of Los Angeles County and not all cookies in these lots have this oil-breakdown issue.

The lot number is located on the bottom of each cookie box. Affected lots in LA County are lots #7458522 and #7458523.

No other Girl Scout cookie varieties are involved in the product quality hold.

Any Lemon Chalet Crème cookies having or suspected of having an off taste or smell should be returned to any local Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles service center and a replacement(s) will be provided. Also, in the event that consumers experience an off taste and smell in this product, they should call 1-800-962-1718 or go to www.littlebrowniebakers.com.

Little Brownie Bakers and Girl Scouts of Greater Los Angeles are dedicated to providing the best quality product.
